

LEONARD M. DAVIDSON

Leonard M. Davidson brings more than four decades of experience representing clients in complex civil litigation and real estate matters. He has tried cases at all levels of the Massachusetts judicial system and has secured substantial verdicts and favorable appellate outcomes, including million-dollar recoveries as well as involvement in precedent-setting appellate work. Len is recognized as a thoughtful strategist and a dedicated advocate for his clients.

In addition to his legal practice, Len has held numerous leadership positions in charitable and community organizations and has been honored on multiple occasions for that service. Outside the office, he enjoys golf, skiing, reading, and spending time with friends and family.
