Natasha Peck is a senior associate in Dain Torpy's litigation group. Natasha specializes in representing developers defending zoning appeals, in Boston and throughout the Commonwealth. Her practice also includes other land use and general commercial real estate litigation.

Prior to joining Dain Torpy, Natasha was an associate at Melick & Porter, LLP, defending insurers and insureds in a wide range of civil litigation matters (general liability, professional liability, product liability, M.G.L. c. 93A claims, and insurance coverage). Before Melick & Porter, Natasha practiced land use and environmental law at KP Law, P.C., and was in general private practice at Bletzer & Bletzer, P.C.

During law school, Natasha was a member of the National Environmental Moot Court team, and interned at the U.S. Department of the Interior, Office of the Solicitor, the Rhode Island Attorney General's Office (Environmental Division), and MetroWest Legal Services (foreclosure defense project).
